

FOOD COMMISSION WOULD AID STOCK BY NEW PASTURES

A comprehensive plan to utilize unused pasture lands in the territory for the raising of stock, with a view to increasing as far as possible the meat supply of the islands, as well as providing a new source of supply, is now under consideration by the territorial food commission and may be put into active operation before the end of this month.

On Oahu alone says Executive A. L. Dean, there are several thousand acres of such unused pastoral land, while on the other islands there is considerably more land that could be called into use.

The plan is to have the commission act as a go-between for the owners of the land and the ranchers. One of the first things to be done is to impress on the ranchers the necessity of increasing the beef supply. After this has been accomplished, the owners of the land will be seen as to arrangements for securing their unused land.

Executive Dean is of the opinion that, in many instances, owners would turn over their land free of charge, but in other cases, he says, arrangements would be made to pay a rental, the amount of such rents to be determined by a member of the commission. Once the land is secured, it would be turned over to the ranchers or to other persons interested in stock raising.

It is pointed out by Executive Dean that one piece of land on Oahu is already in sight, and it contains pasture to accommodate 200 head of cattle.

"We want to see the cattle on the land," says Executive Dean. "There is plenty of unused land in the territory that could well be used for this purpose, and if the plan works out as we want it to, I believe the problem of relieving a possible meat shortage here will be solved."

One encouraging report made by Executive Dean today is that the price of meat in Honolulu today is not as high as that on the mainland. The commission has not yet considered the question of raising hogs, for the reason that raising them is almost prohibited by the price of imported feed.

"Before we can take up hog raising," he says, "the production of material that hogs can eat must be increased locally."

PERSONALITIES

DR. J. S. B. PRATT, president of the territorial board of health, will return from a trip to the mainland on July 24.

H. STUART JOHNSON, engineer of the Rapid Transit Company, will leave for a vacation trip on Hawaii next Saturday. He will visit Mrs. Johnson at Hilo and they will tour the Big Island by automobile.

GRIEG SETS NEW RECORD AT CLUB WITH 67 SCORE

J. I. B. Grieg of Schofield set a new record for the Oahu Country Club golf course yesterday after noon, making the 18 holes in 67, which is two under par. Grieg lowered the old record held by Alex Bell by two strokes.

In his record performance, which gave him the Navy Cup, Grieg played almost perfect golf throughout. With the exception of the 14th hole, when he missed a five-foot putt, his game was remarkable. He shot straight for the pin on every hole, and his approach and putting was a big feature of his match.

Grieg made a two on the 15th hole, and chalked up a three on the third, sixth, seventh and ninth. He was playing around with Frank Halsted, who pulled one on the fourth hole and picked up. Grieg made a 34 going out, and took 53 for the last nine for the record score. Bogie on this course is 78.

C. F. Cleveland also played fine golf in the tourney and finished in a tie for second place with W. L. Stanley. Conditions were ideal for good golf and some excellent scores were turned in.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The Guardian Trust Co. has been appointed temporary administrator of the estate of the late Jonathan Shaw.

On the ground of desertion, Y. Asagi has been granted a divorce from W. Asagi by Circuit Judge Heen.

The members of the territorial grand jury will meet at 2 o'clock next Friday afternoon in the Judiciary building.

Exactly $138.53 was taken up in the collection at the Central Union church yesterday morning at the special Red Cross service. This money will go to the Red Cross fund.

CONGRESS THREATENS TO CONTROL DOCTORS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Confidential of the entire medical profession of the country will be given to President Wilson by a measure which has been approved by the ways and means and finance committees of the house and will be submitted to Congress for enactment if physicians do not enlist up to the total of 20,000 needed, major D. A. Kraker of the United States marine corps, told the New Jersey Medical society. The recent registration made 9000 eligible to draft between the ages of 21 and 30. Major Kraker said, and 11,000 more must volunteer or the proposed measure will be given to Congress.

HONOLULU IS DENIED REGISTRATION CARD ON DEPARTURE FOR STATES

Arizona. McMillan is reported to have asked:

"Do they think I am going to Arizona in order to get across to Mexico?"

When he first appeared before the registration chairman last week he said nothing about his intention to go to Arizona. On account of this remark, Chairman Green will send letters in regard to the case to all the federal officials along the Mexican border.

McMillan has been employed in the auto sales department of the von Hamm-Young Co. for the past year and a half and has been living at the Colonial hotel. O. E. Shepherd, head of the von Hamm-Young auto sales department, says that McMillan had gained an excellent reputation during his employment there. He is well known to many people about Honolulu. McMillan by birth is a Canadian, having been born in Owen Sound, Ontario, but is an American by naturalization. He will not be 31 years of age until next November, but is probably exempt from military duty on account of the condition of his health. It is on account of his health that he is going to Arizona, it is said.

Although the charge against McMillan was not substantiated, or at least no legal action was taken, it is an indication of the vigilance that is being exercised by the officials to apprehend all who attempt to avoid the draft in Hawaii. The McMillan case will also serve as a precedent for the registration board in dealing with similar cases, where there is a suspicion of any applicant who desires to register here.

In such cases the applicant will be registered, but the certificate withheld and sent to the United States marshal of the district where the applicant states he is going. This was the action finally taken regarding McMillan. A portion of the letter mailed to the San Francisco United States marshal reads as follows:

"Having no permanent address through which he can be reached, the original certificate has been deposited with the United States marshal in the district of San Francisco, and by him will be forwarded to other districts as the said Angus McMillan may move from place to place.

"Federal and state officials are requested to recognize this provisional certificate as evidence of registration. This provisional certificate to become void one week after the date which will hereafter be set by the President of the United States, for the selection of men under the draft.

"All officials to whom this shall come are requested to ascertain the present address of the bearer, Angus McMillan, and make a record of the same, where it may be available hereafter."

BOARD WRESTLES WITH FINANCES

The board of supervisors met Sunday morning and worked two hours on the appropriation bill and although many questions were settled another meeting was to be held this afternoon to put the finishing touches to the bill for the second reading this evening.

While the appropriation bill will claim most of the board's attention this evening, there are other matters which will probably be taken up.

George Collins, city engineer, said today that he expected to have a report ready on the Bernina street improvement, Alapai to Punahoa, concerning the increase in cost of constructing the street above the estimated amount when the district was first formed.

There are also several committee reports expected. The supply bids were turned over to William McClellan, member of the finance committee, for investigation especially in regard to the lumber bids, which were unusually high, and which may retard the erection of 18 school buildings which were to be built during the summer vacation.

KEEP ON OFFERING TO SERVE, SAYS T. R.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Being passed over by the army selection does not abate a man from the duty of persistently offering his services to the country in whatever way they can best be used. Col. Roosevelt declared recently, before the American Medical association convention here. Failure to do so means untimeliness to be a citizen, he said.

U. S. Officials in Philippines Will Work For Islands

Up to noon today the U. S. attorney's office had received no instructions or information regarding the return at San Francisco Saturday of nearly 100 indictments against persons charged with associating in a widespread German plot to foment a rebellion in India.

The fact that one of the indictments is reported to include a former German consul at Honolulu has created considerable interest here, but as local federal officials have received no instructions relating to arrests, they are inclined to believe that the warrants of arrest already scattered broadcast from San Francisco will not include anyone now resident in Honolulu.

"I do not anticipate any instructions," said Assistant U. S. Attorney J. J. Banks this morning, "and thus far this office has received no information."

Prior to leaving for Hilo on Saturday, District Attorney S. C. Huber said it was his opinion that no one in Honolulu would be charged with having a part in the plot.

METERS TO STOP WASTE OF WATER FOR IRRIGATION

Supt. Murray is planning to install meters in the entire Manoa district. The service pipe there is too small to supply an adequate amount of water during the summer when so much is being used for irrigation and the watering of lawns. Murray figures that it will take approximately 130 meters to complete the meter system in Manoa, and as soon as the meters are available the installation will begin.

ARMY HORSES TO GO TO SCHOFIELD

One hundred and sixty-four army horses in quarantine at the animal station on Ala Moana road will be moved tomorrow to Schofield Barracks, having been held the required time since their arrival on an army transport from the mainland.

This is the group which was in quarantine at the time the army authorities asked order of the territorial board of agriculture when it was planned to move the remainder of T. F. Farr's herd from the anthrax infected dairy at Moiliuli to the quarantine station.

No action toward moving the herd will be taken until Dr. V. A. Norwood returns from Hilo, where he went Saturday to company with Dr. J. A. Edmondson, expert veterinarian from California, who has come here to aid in the fight against anthrax.

W. H. Rice, sheriff of Kauai county, who is in the city today on registration day matters, says that there have been no new cases on Kauai for some time, and that the disease seems under control.

DENIES HUBER IN HILO TO INVESTIGATE ANTHRAX

A report current today to the effect that District Attorney S. C. Huber has gone to Hilo to investigate the anthrax situation with a view to determining whether the recent outbreak of the disease was the result of a "plot" is denied by Assistant U. S. Attorney J. J. Banks.

The anthrax situation, I understand, is well in hand," says Judge Banks, "and I can see no reason for any investigation by this office at this time."

He added that District Attorney Huber has gone to Hilo to represent the government at the special session of federal court, which opened there today.
